Brother Gardner Answers Dennis Kearney.
Detroit Free Press.

"Las' nite or I sat on de front doah stop mendin' de handle of one of de ole woman's flatirons," began Brother Gardner, as the notes of the triangle died away, "long sum dat nigger Thornapple Scott. He was puffin' an' blowin' an' fannin' hisself wid his hat, an' de minit he cotched sight of me he rushed in an' called out:

"'Brudder (Gardner, dis kentry am all gwine to ruin! Starvashun looks de poor man squar in de eye, dar am no work fur de laborer, an' de tax gatherer hab got us by de froat!"

"I looked up to see if dat nigger had gone crazy, an' den I axed him to look aroun' an' see de new houses gwine up in ebory direkshun. I axed him to disremember dat kaliker was fifty four an' five cents a yard, butter fifteen cents a pound, flour 'taters way down, an' clothin' cheap 'nuff to bust de dealers, an' he set down an' replied:

"'Deed, sah, but dat's de fact—dat's de fact."

"I axed him to look across de couln' but an' see de drives of workin' men gwine home to der fam'lies after de labors of de day, an' he looked an' replied:

"'Deed, sah, but dey hez been to work, I reckon."

"I went inter de cabin an' brought out my tax receipts for de two years back an' showed dat de taxes for dis year war five dollars less den las' an' he hited aroun' an' said:

"'Deed, sah, but de speeches of de pollyshuns an' de facts in de case don't hang togader."

"Den I stood him up agin de house, whar' I could look him squar' in de eye, an' said: Thornapple Scott, you am a good 'nuff nigger for common weather, but you'd better kiver yer head wid a blanket if a rain storm comes up. You talk about de kentry gwine to ruin, an' yet you loaf aroun' an' let yer wife an' darters wash an' iron an' support ye. You talk about starvation lookin' de po' man in de face, an' yet you haven't worked a day for six month! You talk about de tax gatherer, an' yet you never paid one cent of taxes in yer life! Go home, nigger—skip outen dis locality afore some mule kicks ye to death! It am you an' de ole loafers an' lazy-boneses who am all de time blowin' sich nonsense, while yer families am diggin' inter hard work to keep ye in food an' whisky!"

"Gentlen, dat nigger skipped. I ze got six bricks handy for de nex' pusion dat comes talkin' dat way, no matter what his color. I iz lookin' for signs, dat some member of de club am sittin' wid his feet hangin' off a dry goods box while he talks about starvashun, ruinin' kentry, an' so forth. When I diskriver a sign you'll diskriver a vacancy in de club, an' let no man disrekeoleet it."

THERE was a great temperance mass meeting at Mochanburg yesterday. Elder Buck was one of the speakers.
ONLY three more days in which to take the benefit of the bankrupt law, which expires on the first of September.
Most of the newspapers have noticed the fact that the prohibition candidate for state superintendent, Rev. W. S. Post, had withdrawn from the ticket but the organ of the party in Decatur still keeps up his name, and we have failed to observe in its columns any mention of the candidate's withdrawal.
THE Government Bureau of Statistics at Washington makes public the facts and figures of our exports and imports. It appears that the balance of trade in favor of this country has increased during the last fiscal year over $26,000,000. Additional information is also given as to the articles of export by items, showing how and by what sort of merchandise this balance was obtained. The greatest increase in exports is found in breadstuffs, meats and lumber. There has been a remarkable decrease in imports of wine, spirits and malt liquors, cotton, silk, linen and woolen goods, while the only marked increase in imports has been in haberdashery, carpets and worsted goods. Comparatively little iron or other metals were imported last year.

GOVERNMENT BONDS.
Reply to General Butler's Statement that the Government Bonds were originally paid for in Greenbacks.
From the Boston Journal.
General Butler assumes that the bulk of the bonded debt of the United States was purchased with greenbacks when nearly $3 in greenbacks could be purchased for $1 in coin. We have no idea that a reiteration of the irrefutable facts, which go to prove that his statement is falsehood, will have the least influence with General Butler, but we at the same time recognize the necessity of correcting his lies about this subject as often as he has the shameless audacity to repeat them.
1. By an act of Congress, 5-20 bonds could not be purchased for greenbacks, dollar for dollar, from July 1, 1863, until the issue of bonds provided by the act of July 30, 1864. During the year the average value of greenbacks in gold was 80 cents, and during the year 1863 the price averaged 64 cents, so that during that period no bonds could have been purchased for 30 or 35 cents on a dollar.
2. By the act of June 30, 1864, $100,000,000 of 5-20 bonds were authorized, and during the next six months only $125,000,000 were issued, so that that amount was the largest quantity which could have been purchased when the gold premium was the highest. At the same time that these bonds were upon the market, the New York quotations of 5-20's ranged from 104 to 118. It is, moreover, a well-known fact that capitalists were very chary about taking the 5-20 issues of June 30, 1864.
3. The other 5-20 bonds issued were known as "consols" and were authorized to retire the compound interest notes ($27,000,000) and the 7-30 currency bonds ($900,000,000), which were issued during the last months of the war and at its close to get money to pay the army when being discharged, or to be exchanged for other liabilities of the Government to individuals. At no time were these 7-30 currency bonds exchanged for 5-20 or 6 per cent. bonds when greenbacks were worth less than 70 cents, and many of them were exchanged when the difference between greenbacks and gold was much less.

THE SCOURGE.
Sickening Stories of Suffering.
The President Appealed to for Help.
A New Remedy,
Which will Kill or Cure
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 27.—At the Charity Hospital to-day, Dr. Samuel Choppin tried an exceedingly interesting experiment, which, if successful, will revolutionize the treatment of yellow fever, and justly be regarded as one of the most important medical discoveries of the age. The patient was a man in a moribund condition, having been sick with the yellow fever twenty-four hours without any attention, his only medicine being a salit powder. The temperature of his body indicated 105 2-5 degrees. His pulse beat 100 in a minute, and he presented the appearance of one who would die in a very few minutes. The patient was stripped naked, placed upon one of Dr. Kibbe's fever coats, which has a net work over, and an india rubber receptacle beneath, and sprinkled with ice-water from a sprinkling can two hours and a quarter. At the expiration of that time the temperature of the body was reduced to 100 degrees and the pulse to 90. When the sprinkling ceased the temperature of the body returned to the normal heat in health, fever disappeared and the patient fell into a gentle sleep, which still continues at the present writing. This first experiment in cold water treatment is attracting widespread attention among physicians, and, should the patient recover, it is predicted that the disease will be mastered. After the sprinkling, the patient was covered with a sheet.

TELEGRAPHIC.
It is a South Carolina Democrat who makes this remarkable appeal to induce the colored people of that state to vote the Democratic ticket:
Each of you represent $900. You would have brought that in 1860. You were freed without our consent, and now, if you will vote the Democratic ticket, we will make the Yankees pay for you, and then we will give you half the money. There stands old Uncle Jim. He has a wife and eight children, for which the North will have to pay $9,000, one-half of which I will give him, and the balance I keep. Then he will not be dependent upon charity. This, my dear colored friends, is the practical solution of the forty-acres-and-a-mule question, and you will some day be lifted out of your poverty by your old masters. Only vote the Democratic ticket, and we will soon be independent of the contemptible Yankees.
